WEST PHILLY PROMISE NEIGHBORHOOD

Resource Guide

The West Philly Promise Neighborhood is a US Department of Education funded grant to support “cradle-to-career” opportunities for children living or going to school in Belmont, East Parkside, Mantua, Mill Creek, Powelton Village, and West Powelton / Saunders Park. The program seeks to improve education, health, and economic success for children, their families and the community.

This resource guide provides a few general resources to help support you and your family here in the Promise Neighborhood. This guide is not intended to include all available services. The services include in this guide may change frequently, please call or check online for current services. An electronic version of this resource guide is now available online. This online resource provides a more complete picture of services in your community and will be updated more frequently. <https://westphillypn.org/resources/community-map>
